Kitchen floors for beds and fridges for storage – life of misery in crowded flats

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

FAMILIES from London parachuted into the town are having to store their belongings in the fridge and sleep on the kitchen floor because of cramped living conditions, Luton on Sunday can exclusively reveal.

This newspaper has been given a tour of a block of flats leased by a London council where children are playing in narrow hallways and some families say they feel they are serving a 'prison sentence'.

Among them is Zafar Iqbal, pictured, who said the health of his 12 and nine-year-old sons was being affected by the family being squeezed into a one-bedroom flat.

Another lady, who shares two-bedrooms with her four children aged 16, nine, six and one, is storing items of clothing in the fridge because she has 'no other option'.

Waltham Forest Council has leased the block of 53 flats in Cardiff Road to accommodate residents who it cannot rehouse locally.

The families who invited Luton on Sunday into their homes include a disabled mother-of-four with mild cerebral palsy who shares a one-bedroom flat with her children aged eight, two, one and a half, and seven-months; a family of six with two-bedrooms; a family of six in a one-bedroom flat and a family of four also in a one-bedroom flat.

All of the residents arrived from late March-April this year and while some have gone back to London, more are still arriving.

Mr Iqbal, 57, a cab driver, said: "Since we came here we have had a lot of problems. My children did not sleep very well when I had to wake them up very early in the morning to get back to school in London, and it took us more than two hours."

The resident with items in her fridge said she has had to stop working as a health care assistant because she cannot get childcare.

Prison sentence

NO ROOM AT THE INN: Mr Iqbal's wife sleeps in the bedroom with the children while he has to make do with the kitchen floor

LoS Special Report

She said: "It's not easy and it's wrong and we do not even know when we are leaving. When we call the council they do not care about us. For my 16-year-old son I had to pay a lot for him to go to school in London. The others were staying at home and not going to school so I got them a place here."

Another resident, who is living in a one-bedroom flat with his wife and three children aged 11, ten and six, said: "We are living in a kind of prison sentence and we want to go back to Walthamstow. Every day is a problem for us.

"This is our fourth month living here but the council said it could be six-months to two-years. We are sleeping like prisoners – what is this life?"

Waltham Forest Council said the flats were being used as 'first-stage temporary accommodation' and that all the families were being supported by Ascham Homes, a not-for-profit company the council set up to manage its housing. Luton Borough Council said it was 'checking the arrangements' at the flats.

Council gains tighter grip over benefit debt

nicksmith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MOTION passed this week will hand councillors more power to decide whether unpaid housing benefit debts can be written off.

At a meeting of Luton Borough Council's (LBC) executive on Monday, it was agreed that the threshold at which benefit overpayments, whether claimed fraudulently or mistakenly paid by officers, can be written off without requiring approval of the executive be reduced from £20,000 to £10,000.

Following the meeting, councillor David Franks, leader of the opposition and member of the board which recommended the threshold be reduced, said: "I'm pleased that the executive has reduced the threshold but I think that we should look at reducing it even more, possibly to £5,000.

"If sizeable overpayments are never brought in front of the executive, then ordinary taxpayers, who fund all of this, will never know about possible fraudulent claims using their money."

The main purpose of the meeting was to approve the writing off of any debts which were deemed not to have a realistic chance of being recovered.

On Monday one overpayment of £27,687.57 was written off as the claimant had absconded without paying the due amount.

However, any debts which have been written off can be looked into again in the future if there is evidence of fraud.

A second debt which was referred to the executive by LBC's overview and scrutiny board, totalling £27,540.17, was proposed to be written off as it was believed to be barred from collection legally due to the amount of time which has passed since it was amassed, however as further evidence emerged it was said that it was still able to be pursued, despite the claimant being in prison. Council debt collectors are now looking into recovering the money.

Speaking at Monday's meeting, leader of the council, Hazel Simmons said: "I have no objections to this change.

"As we are in a time of austerity, it makes sense to reduce the threshold of what can be written off without prior approval of the executive."

The decision follows the announcement that £6m of the council's budget be set aside for uncollected debt. This was a measure proposed by the board at a meeting on July 14.

Dorries blocks bid to declare election void

CONSERVATIVE MP Nadine Dorries has blocked a political blogger's bid to take legal action against her.

Tim Ireland alleged that Ms Dorries had made 'false statements' about him and wanted a court trial.

But two judges threw out his claims at a High Court hearing in London on Thursday, after ruling that he had not given Ms Dorries proper notice of the claim. Ms Dorries, MP for Mid Bedfordshire, was not present at the hearing.

Mr Ireland, who stood as an independent candidate, claimed that Ms Dorries had made false statements about him in breach of legislation governing elections, and wanted a judge to declare that the election should be declared void.

Lawyers representing Ms Dorries argued that Mr Ireland's 'petition' had not been properly served on her.

Judges Mr Justice Jeremy Baker and Mr Justice Popplewell agreed and said the petition should be dismissed.

They said Mr Ireland had made 'no attempt to effect personal service'.

THOWN OUT: Nadine Dorries successfully blocked Tim Ireland's challenge

AMBASSADOR GIVEN UNI DEGREE

A SIERRA Leonean Ambassador with a passion for humanitarianism and international relations, Umaru Bundu Wurie, was awarded an honorary degree at the University of Bedfordshire last week.

Ambassador Wurie, who collected his award at one of the University's summer graduations, has served three different Sierra Leonean governments, a rare feat in African politics and an indication of the respect in which he is held in his home country.

He studied at the university in the late 1990s, graduating with a Masters of Arts in International Relations in 2001, and during his speech commended the education he received in Bedfordshire.

TOWN LOSES OUT ON RAIL LINK

LUTON has missed out on inclusion into the 'Central Section' of the East West Rail redevelopment, as it has not made it into the final two suggestions for inclusion in the route.

Two potential routes for trains between Bedford and Cambridge have been identified by East West rail this week as via either Sandy or Hitchin.

The western section connecting Bedford with services to Aylesbury, Milton Keynes and Oxford is due to be fully upgraded by 2019 - leaving just the central section to complete.

Gavin Shuker, MP for Luton South, said: "I am disappointed that Network Rail has identified corridors that now do not include Luton and I hope that the East-West consortium reconsider and put Luton back in the running."

MAN INJURED IN GANG ATTACK

Officers are appealing for anyone who witnessed the incident in Luton's Harthill Lane at around 12.30am on Sunday, 19 July, to come forward.

During an altercation between a group of white and Asian men, a man was punched, resulting in injuries to his face.

Anyone with information is asked to contact PC James Mirza on 101.

Search for 'Samaritan' who sent lost wallet

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A HOLIDAYMAKER who had his lost wallet returned by a stranger - complete with £15 in cash - is hoping social media will bring him face to face with his 'good Samaritan'.

Radio presenter Tom Watt, 23, from Nottingham has issued a plea to help him find the 'absolute legend' who found his wallet and sent it to his parents' Maidenhead home.

He lost it at Luton Airport on July 18 after flying home from a holiday in Serbia.

Following a fruitless search, he cancelled his cards, went home and then left for a trip to Edinburgh where he received a call from his mum which was about to spark a worldwide Facebook campaign.

He said: "My mum rang me and said that Royal Mail tried to deliver a parcel in Maidenhead and I was confused. I thought it could be my wallet because that's the address on my driving licence and when I went to collect it, it was my wallet!

"I thought it was incredible that no money had been taken. I feel very lucky to lose my wallet in front of a person who would return it."

The person who sent the wallet also sent a note apologising for accidentally picking it up. After talking to friends, Tom posted it on Facebook and asked people to help him find the stranger behind the kind gesture.

But despite the post being shared 86,000 times and being approached by people pretending to be the note's author, Tom is still to find his 'good Samaritan'.

He said: "I think there are some good people out there and I was lucky to lose it in front of someone who would return it. Finding out who sent it is like finding a needle in a haystack and it will take a while."

FEELING LUCKY: Tom said the reach and power of social media in helping track who found his wallet was 'incredible'

Contest to name former GM estate

A CASH prize is on offer to whoever can come up with the best name for a new housing estate.

Redrow Homes, which bought the 57 acre site between Chaul End and Caddington, will give £250 to the sender of the best suggestion.

Tonia Tyler, sales director for Redrow Homes South Midlands, said: "When they were selling the land, General Motors called the site Chaulington."

"While that name reflects that the site is between Chaul End and Caddington, we want to give it a new name not just for the period while we are selling the homes, but hopefully one that the area itself will be known by for years to come."

Central Bedfordshire Councillor Kevin Collins said: "Redrow's plans represent an exciting new development that will bring a disused parcel of land back into good use.

"It's great to see that they want to involve local people in helping select a new name for a site."

You can submit ideas for a name, along with 100 words or less explaining why your suggestion should be chosen, to: southmidlands.sales@redrow.co.uk

Police stations in a major reshuffle

BY STEPHEN PENN

stephen.penn@bedsonsunday.com

MORE than a year after changes to police stations across the county were announced the first move is set to happen this month, but two severely underutilised stations are yet to see any action.

In April 2014, police and crime commissioner Olly Martins said a number of stations would be relocated or adapted to help the force save much-needed cash and that Leighton Buzzard and Houghton Regis stations were respectively 90 per cent and 55 per cent underutilised.

This week it was announced a Flitwick 'hub' would be ready to relieve the Ampthill Station, but that the latter would remain open with a skeleton staff until it is sold.

Questions have now been asked about both why this oversight was allowed to happen, and the lack of urgency in progressing plans to transform 'inefficient' stations.

Mr Martins said: "This is the cost effective solution to the provision of security measures, as if left unused for a period of time the building would require boarding up and other security measures normally associated with unoccupied buildings."

Councillor for Houghton Hall, John Kane, does not see the need for any change to his local station.

He said: "After more than a year, not enough consultation has been undertaken with the community to see what is the best course of action.

Changes start to kick in at county sites

"The location of the station is very central and he can't see a place better suited."

So far only one formerly underutilised station, Dunstable, has seen a change and PCC Martins says it is 'being better utilised as an operational policing facility, housing both response and community teams for the area, and as the base for probationer training'.

This in turn has freed up space at Kempston and enabled officers and staff from Greyfriars Police Station to relocate so the it can be put up for sale when the move is complete.

Two full-time custody suites left after 'upgrade'

THE county only has two full-time custody suites after the third was turned into a 'contingency' site used for additional capacity.

Bedfordshire Police said it has upgraded facilities at Kempston, Luton and Dunstable following the closure of cells at Greyfriars Police Station in Bedford.

Kempston, with 18 cells, and Luton, with 21 cells, are always open but Dunstable, with 13 cells, is only in use when the others are closed or if more space is needed.

Last year the force was criticised over the quality of its custody suites.

■ A report has shown Bedfordshire had the highest percentage increase of officers in the UK in 2014/15. The force went from 1,019 officers in March 2014 to 1,073 officers one year later.

Teen spared jail for knife assault

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

A TEENAGER has been given a 10 month sentence suspended for two years after a jury found him guilty of assaulting a boy occasioning him actual bodily harm in Bury Park.

Mirazul Haque will also be subject to a home curfew for the next three months and have to remain indoors between 9pm and 7am.

At his trial last month Haque been cleared of trying to rob the youth. The 18 year old of St Dominic's Square, Luton, had pleaded not guilty to attempted robbery, having a bladed article and wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm.

It had been alleged by the prosecution that Haque walked up to 18-year-old Mohammed Miah in Oak Road, Luton, on the evening of June 10 last year and demanded to use his mobile phone.

When Mr Miah refused, Haque pulled out a small wooden handled kitchen knife and told him: 'You are going to get stabbed'.

As the pair grappled in the street, Mr Miah received three minor stab wounds to his upper arm, his chin and chest.

Haque was found not guilty of the attempted robbery. He was also cleared of wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm but convicted of having the bladed article on him after telling the jury he'd had the knife with him that night for protection.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

ADVERTISEMENT

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows.

The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Help to move on in new council houses

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A NEWLY-MARRIED couple who have been living with the husband's mum for the past six years will be one of the first residents to move into new council housing.

The four-house development, in Creasey Park Drive, Dunstable is the first council housing built in Central Bedfordshire in almost 40 years.

Helen and husband Dean O'Connell, who suffers from cerebral palsy, are hoping to move into their purpose built house before Christmas this year.

It was funded partly from receipts from the Right to Buy scheme, and as such housing

ON THE MOVE: Helen and Dean O'Connell are excited about future minister Brandon Lewis visited the site on Wednesday to meet them.

Helen, who is an accountant, said the couple has been on the council waiting list for five years and can now 'move on' with their lives.

She said: "We got married and we want to get a puppy, maybe have children in a few years' time, so it just helps us to move on and stops us being stuck with nowhere to go."

Luton in top five cheap commuter towns

DESPITE being only 20 minutes apart on the train, the price difference between houses in Luton and London show why the town is so popular with commuters.

Figures released by Lloyds Bank ranked the town as the fifth best place for London commuters to live as it is within an hour's journey of the capital.

Homes in Luton are said to sell for £186,752 on average, compared to £772,000 in central London.

Wellingborough was named as the most affordable with the average home going for £160,245.

Kettering, Peterborough and Chatham were also top five.

Tip of the iceberg?

YOUR report (19.7.15), that Luton Borough Council has overpaid housing benefit claimants £6 million will come as a nasty shock to those trusting taxpayers who thought that their money was in the safe hands of responsible officials working under the eagle eyes of scrutineers.

That such a sum was allowed to accumulate must surely call into question the fitness for purpose of those responsible for its handling and oversight.

In any other organisation (except, perhaps, the EU), so relaxed a view of accounting would result in an immediate inquiry, and the probable dismissal of those responsible.

If deliberate fraud was suspected, the police would be informed.

How much of that £6m can be recovered, with or without interest, remains to be seen.

The so-called Overview and Scrutiny Board suggests that only another £10,000 need be written off; but the fact that £27,000 has already been lost due to the expiry of the statutory time limit is not encouraging.

Meanwhile, the thought that this hitherto unnoticed loss of £6m in housing benefit alone might be just the visible tip of an even larger iceberg should send a shiver down the stoutest Luton spine.

Richard Shaw
Evelyn Road
Dunstable

Ed.: See our lead letter for council's response

Benefits article 'misleading'

YOUR recent article about the council's benefit loss is misleading ('Councillor slams £6m benefit loss', LoS, 19.7.15).

Most benefit loss occurs when claimants fail to tell us about change in their personal circumstances such as an increase in income, other benefits or tax credits to allow us to update their benefit entitlement. Last year, the council collected £1.9m in housing benefit overpayments, and wrote off a further £158k.

We recovered the overpayments through ongoing deductions in benefit, or separate arrangement.

Usually, overpayments are only written off where a claimant has absconded and all attempts to trace them have been exhausted, or the debt becomes non recoverable under the Limitations Act 1980.

The £6m benefit loss provision in the budget is because the total housing benefit overpayment at the end March was £7.8m. (Council policy is one hundred per cent provision for all bad debts over six months old). However, most of this is claimant error and we are working to recover another £2m of this in 2015/16.

However, it is worth noting that when universal credit is introduced, this debt will become the government's rather than the council's burden.

We regularly remind all housing benefit claimants that by law, they must report any change in their circumstances to us by phone or in person.

Soon, customers will also be able to report any changes online too.

But where appropriate, the council takes legal action and refers potentially fraudulent cases to the DWP's single fraud investigation service.

Cllr Hazel Simmons
Leader of Luton Borough Council

Every day 'a bonus'

NATURE. As I see it. For me it starts when I hear the birds singing after the long silence of winter. Next is to see the hedges and trees bursting forth with their greenery etc.

The first hedge seen is the blackthorn with its white bloom, looking like snow and then the Hawthorn beautiful pink blossom.

The next thing I pay attention to are the birds, they are so busy collecting allsorts to build their nests. Next comes along the cuckoo in May. He lays eggs in others nests and flies away in June.

I consider every day as a bonus.

Paw state of our paths

I AGREE with Doreen Steinberg.

The grass growing out of the pavements, is harmful to dogs' paws and ears.

Hayling Drive and Wigmore Lane, look like old deserted cowboy towns.

My dog has just been to the vet with a sore paw and it cost me £63. I thought we were a nation of dog lovers? Clearly that doesn't include L.B.C.

Council cuts are one thing. But cruelty to animals is another.

I send two photos: one is of my dogs paw; the second is Hayling Drive (above).

Councils head for clash over cramped housing

A ROW is brewing between two councils over the living conditions of residents who have been shipped into the town from London because of a housing shortage.

Councillor Tom Shaw, from Luton Borough Council, said senior officials at the authority and those at Waltham Forest Council were 'arguing' over the families living in Cardiff Road.

He said the council only knew about the new residents after some of their children tried attending a school which is full.

However, Waltham Forest said it had told Luton Council before moving the families and said it would be 'happy to work with officers from Luton to address any concerns'.

Cllr Shaw said: "What happens is the London boroughs can pay more rent than we can pay so we can't put our homeless people into there because the landlord is taking more rent than we can afford to pay.

"The local housing allowance in Luton for a one-bedroom place will be around £650 and the London local housing allowance is £760, so the landlord can get an extra £110 by doing a deal with a London borough."

Some of the families in the 53-block flat are using any space they can find to store their belongings, including the kitchen (pictured right).

John Knight, director of housing solutions at Ascham Homes, a not-for-profit company Waltham Forest set up to manage its housing, said support was available for people having 'difficulties'.

He said: "Space management can be an issue for residents of all forms of housing, and we will provide advice and support to any customers having these difficulties."

"If we conclude that the space in a particular property is not adequate we are able to transfer families to alternative accommodation, but this decision will be made based on all the circumstances of the case."

But Cllr Shaw has criticised the authority for 'overcrowding' the block, blasting it as 'not acceptable'.

He said: "We've got 130 people in bed and breakfast, 1,000 in temporary accommodation and now we've got all these people."

"What we've been talking about for two years is happening but now they're actually buying complete blocks and moving people in. But they're not just moving them in and putting two people in a one-bedroom place, they're actually overcrowding some of the blocks."

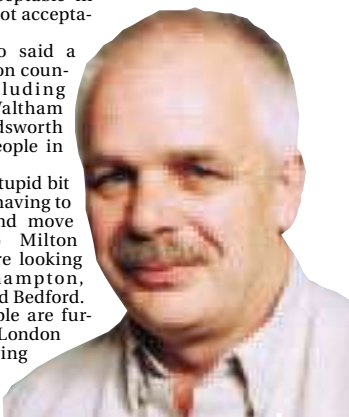

"It may be acceptable in London but it's not acceptable here."

Cllr Shaw also said a number of London councils, including Westminster, Waltham Forest and Wandsworth were housing people in the town.

He said: "The stupid bit about it is we're having to do the same and move our people to Milton Keynes and we're looking at Northampton, Peterborough and Bedford."

"So Luton people are further north and London people are moving north to Luton."

Mr Knight, from Ascham

Marsh Farm plan for new Hatters ground

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutonsunday.co.uk

A CURVEBALL has been thrown in the debate on where to locate the new Hatters stadium.

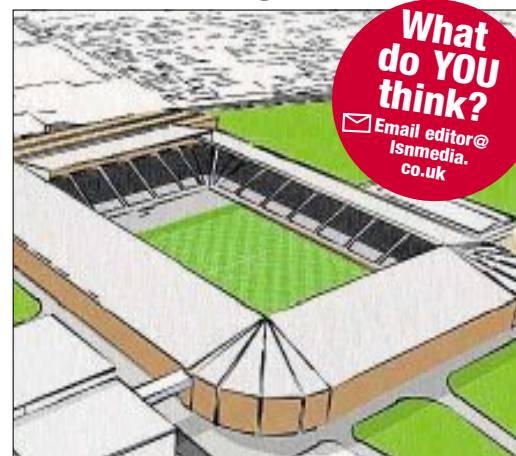

Harry Drimussis, 27, has drawn up an intricate plan to see the club remain in the town, in Marsh Farm.

He said: "For my dissertation I looked at what needed to be done to bring football stadiums back into the centre of towns. All too often green-field sites in towns are tarmacked over and it's simply not sustainable."

Mr Drimussis, who studied Urban Design at Oxford Brookes University and now works at a housing association, wants to see a facility which Marsh Farm can be proud of, and would benefit the whole of Luton.

The former Icknield High School student added: "It's the perfect location and it would also boost the economy of Luton."

"People avoid the town centre on matchdays due to the number of fans heading to the game, but this would solve this problem while keeping the club in the town."

RADICAL: Harry's proposal for the Marsh Farm stadium complex has been presented to Luton Town's Chief Executive Gary Sweet

Now he's taken his idea to the top, to club CEO Gary Sweet. "I had a chat about it with Gary and he agreed with several points I had to make."

"I'm still working on the proposal, in my own time, as I want to see the club do well."

Aside from a new stadium, the proposed development would include shopping facilities and a school connected to the ground itself. The proposed 71.5 acre development would stretch from Marsh Farm Library to Wauluds Bank Drive.

Mr Drimussis added: "It's quite a radical idea, but I feel it would benefit the whole town."

GOOD AS NEW: Mayor Dave Taylor and local kids at the opening of the new bridge in Wardown Park

Grand re-opening for special suspension bridge

THE iconic Wardown Park suspension bridge was officially re-opened to the public on Thursday following extensive repairs and renovation.

The bridge has been a feature of the park since the early 1900s and was completed in 1908. It is reported to be the shortest single span suspension bridge in the country.

Mayor of Luton Dave Taylor, performed the ceremony, which was the first such event in the bridge's history, having missed out on a proper opening when it was first completed.

Councillor Taylor said: "The bridge is an iconic feature of the park landscape and it plays an important, if sometimes unrecognised, role linking the communities from either side of the park.

"The re-opening will ensure that this significant achievement is properly recorded in history while acknowledging the important part the bridge plays in the history of Wardown Park."

The council has spent four months on the project, which has fully restored the bridge to its original glory, with much of the structural steel work mended and the suspension cables replaced.

Free solar panels on your home and reduce your electricity bills by up to 50%

Our client, a national installer of solar panel systems, is looking for properties with roofs suitable to install their free solar panels. They are currently installing over 450 systems every week and your property may qualify.

If your property qualifies you will get free electricity throughout the day at absolutely no cost to you. This means you could reduce your monthly electricity bills by up to 50%*.

*Subject to usage. Average saving on electricity bills over a full year is 37%.

This is a free offer with absolutely no cost to you at any time. You will not be required to change your electricity supplier.

We're sure you've heard the saying; 'Nothing's for free in this life' - So how does the company get paid?

The company gets paid under a Government scheme called the 'Feed in Tariff', which is why they are able to do it completely free if your property qualifies.

However, unfortunately for a variety of reasons approximately 80% of properties do not meet the qualifying criteria.

Does your property Qualify?

To qualify your property will be required to;

1. Have one of the roof surfaces, back or front, facing within 55° of south.
2. Have a roof surface large enough to fit at least a small system.
3. Have no over shading on relevant roof surface.
4. Be free of obstructions on relevant roof surface (flues etc).
5. Have access to purlins and rafters inside loft.
6. Have access and suitability to erect scaffolding or company's own work platform.
7. You have to own the property.
(Private landlords are acceptable).

To find out if your property qualifies or for further information please call Greener Solutions on 01582 206003 between 9am and 7pm.

• Once installed the 'Feed in Tariff' payments to our client are guaranteed. However, the Government keep cutting the level of 'Feed in Tariff' payments for new, future installations. This means that there will come a point in time where our client will have to withdraw their free offer. Don't miss out by leaving it too late!

•• Your property will receive a free up to date Energy Performance Certificate after installation.

••• You can help make the UK a greener place and save up to 50% off your electricity bills in the process.

Hotel transfer would ease A&E pressure

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

PROPOSALS to transfer a fracture clinic to a hotel would help to ease pressure on Luton & Dunstable Hospital's emergency department, a hospital official has said.

David Hartshorne, who is the programme director for the L&D's £150 million redevelopment, said creating an orthopaedic centre at the Travelodge, in Dunstable Road, would allow the hospital to develop a more 'comprehensive' service.

The plans were reviewed at a council meeting on Thursday where Mr Hartshorne gave a presentation to councillors.

When the hotel was built in the early 1970s, a welfare clinic was included on the ground floor as part of the development and it became known as the Edwin Lobo Centre.

However, the clinic was moved to Redgrave Gardens a few years ago and the L&D wants to move into the vacant space.

Mr Hartshorne said: "A significant part of the orthopaedic services operate within the hospital. It currently exists within the emergency department and it does not need to be in the emergency department."

"In its current location it has suffered from issues of access and the conditions people are being asked to wait in."

Mr Hartshorne also said the hospital wants to link its hospital orthopaedic services with services from one of its clinics in Castle Street which has to move because the landlord has served notice on the building.

Expansion led to rise in plane related streets

THIS week Howard Chandler tells us the story behind the streets surrounding the airport.

In the 1930s some said light aircraft would become as numerous as cars. Local councils were encouraged to open aerodromes close to passengers' final destinations.

Luton Corporation bought Eaton Green Farm from the Hartop family for £32,950 and Luton Airport was opened there in July 1938.

The council had received a boost in 1936 when Australian aircraft designer Edgar Percival moved his company near the airport. It employed 1,300 people in Luton by 1941, producing and repairing Percival Proctors.

Over 1,000 Airspeed Oxford training planes were produced for the RAF by 1945. The firm, called Percivals, became part of the British Aircraft Corporation in 1959, but closed in 1966 with 1,850 redundancies.

In the 1980s expansion led to a number of new roads around the airport being created.

In addition to Percival Way, five other roads were named after planes made by the firm: Prentice Way, President Way, Prince Way, Proctor Way and Provost Way.

IS Dunstable on the up?

Looking at announcements about investment in the area, one could be forgiven for getting that feeling.

From the A5/M1 link road, to Amazon opening a new fulfilment centre and the White Lion Retail Park redevelopment, things are beginning to happen.

Central Bedfordshire Councillor Nigel Young says building conditions for investment took 'a very, very long time' and this is being helped by new transport links. He says: "The Luton Dunstable busway has opened up Dunstable to whole of the South East and the Woodside Link Road, which is under construction, runs from the Woodside industrial estate through to junction 11a of the M1.

"And the A5/M1 link road runs north of Houghton Regis and Dunstable from the A5 to the M1."

"So those two roads and the link to the wider South East is a very fast rapid transit system to Luton railway station and on to Luton Airport.

"It's meant that conditions are right for investors to come to Dunstable."

Graham Bourne, chairman

ROAD TO SUCCESS: Improved transport links are key to Dunstable's growth such as the A5/M1 link road (below) and (right) chairman of Dunstablians Rugby Club, Graham Bourne of Dunstablians Rugby Club and owner of K2Go Kitchens in Humphreys Road, which has been there since 1997, says he feels the town has lost some of its 'old style community spirit' but added that growth will continue if traffic problems are eased.

"It's like a business; it's a non-stop process. I think Dunstable in general has made a lot of improvement in recent times with the addition of the things such as the Grove Theatre," he says.

"It's a great facility on our doorstep and it's about telling people that these venues can stay, but you just have to use them."

However, some people are more cautious about the growth of the town.

Declan Duggan, former owner of The White Swan pub in the High Street, says he still spends time in the area and feels it has come through difficult times because of its residents.

He said: "Dunstable will survive and will come through. The people have become quite hardy and when you look at how long the recession lasted, the ones who are surviving are pretty hardy people."

Police death left sister with 'void'

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lbnmedia.co.uk

TRAGEDY: Beverley Kukic says her sister's death left 'a void that could never be filled'

THE sister of a police-woman killed on duty more than 30 years ago has told how her death left a 'void that could never be filled'.

Beverley Kukic, from Luton, was only 16 when her sister Mandy was killed in 1982 when a drunk driver, trying to get away from pursuing police officers, deliberately smashed his vehicle into her patrol car.

She was just 18 when she died and she became the first policewoman in Britain to be killed while on duty.

Beverley attended a memorial service last Sunday in Staffordshire which honoured Mandy and every police officer who has died in the course of their duty.

She said: "We were so close, I mean really, really close. But she wasn't just my sister, she was my best friend."

"I remember for years when we were little we shared the same bedroom, but then when she got older she got her own bedroom.

"I can still remember those times when I used to go into her room and sit on her bed talking to her. We would talk about everything and anything, letting off steam, moaning about adults and talking about boyfriends. We had no secrets.

"You hear about siblings arguing, but we never did. There was never any jealousy or envy between us.

"She was my best friend and when I lost her, there was all of a sudden this void that could never be filled."

The memorial event was also attended by cyclists on a two-day cycle challenge for police charity COPS.

Each cyclist wore an individual wrist bracelet with the name of a fallen officer and force in which they served.

Mandy had been serving with Hertfordshire Police when she died.

Corbyn urges better use of town's skills

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

MORE THAN 400 people crammed into Venue 360 to listen to Labour leadership hopeful Jeremy Corbyn on Tuesday evening.

Mr Corbyn, who was joined by Luton North MP Kelvin Hopkins, spoke at length about what a party led by him would aim for, which he outlined as 'justice, peace and human rights around the world.'

He spoke about wide-reaching plans for the economy, equality and social justice, but also touched on a number of issues which hit close to home for many of the people in attendance.

Luton is currently in the midst of a housing crisis, with Luton Borough Council having to look at housing people as far away as Birmingham as private rents soar.

He also fielded questions on a number of issues from people in the audience.

Mr Corbyn attacked the new Welfare Reform Bill, which the majority of Labour MPs abstained on voting against last week, saying: "It's nasty in its concept."

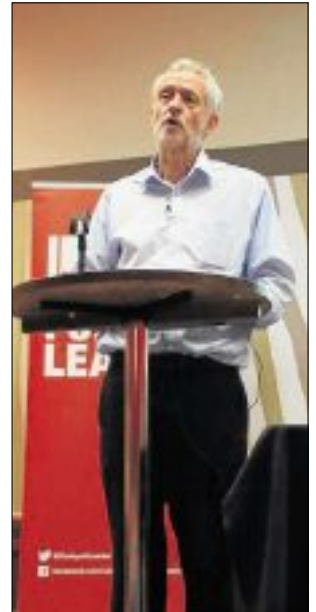

"It punishes people who are victims of low wages and high private rents."

"I oppose it and will continue to oppose it, whatever the outcome of this election campaign."

He also spoke on his economic direction for the country and the town, saying: "Industries in Luton have come and gone and as a result we have a lot of people working below their skill level."

"Why should we be so afraid as a government to get involved, set up joint enterprises and make the most of these skills and the economy?"

Mr Corbyn is the current front-runner in the Labour Party leadership race and has been making the most of his recent surge in popularity, making a series of public appearances up and down the country.

LEADERSHIP HOPEFUL: Jeremy Corbyn is fighting against Yvette Cooper, Andy Burnham and Liz Kendall to head the Labour Party

From painting gnomes to caving, The Mall has it all

HOLIDAY FUN

SUMMER OF FUN

The Mall, St George's Square, Luton
Tomorrow until Sunday, August 16

THE school holidays are here and as any parent will know, finding something to keep the kids occupied over the next month or so is going to be a challenge.

However, fear not, as a number of events hosted at The Mall in Luton will be sure to keep your youngsters entertained, with everything from arts and crafts to indoor caving on offer.

Starting tomorrow, The Mall will host a number of free activities to keep the kids busy during the summer holidays.

Located in Central Square, attractions over the two weeks include the chance to get creative in arts and crafts workshops such as 'Paint a gnome and take it home', face painting, giant summer games and more.

There is also the chance to experience a day in the life of Prince William, sadly not the life of royal luxury, but in his day job as a pilot with the East of England Air Ambulance's simulator.

The lucky winner of a colouring competition will also get the chance to see the new East Anglian Air Ambulance in action.

There's also fun for grown-ups and children alike with Europe's largest indoor caving experience arriving at The Mall from Friday August 14 to Sunday 16, with 90ft of tunnels including two levels with twists, turns and water to navigate your way through.

Lavinia Douglass, marketing manager at The Mall Luton, said "As a family friendly shopping centre, we love to keep our shoppers of all ages entertained throughout the school holidays – and this summer is set to be one of the best yet."

"We are particularly excited about offering shoppers the chance to have a go in the unique caving experience. We hope that visitors from Luton and beyond can come and join in the free fun this August."

Activities take place between 11am and 4pm each day, and are suitable for children aged three to 10 years.

Children must be supervised at all times.

For more information on the events at The Mall this summer, including dates for each activity, simply visit www.themall.co.uk/Luton

DANCE

THE COLOUR OF TIME

Luton Town Centre
Next Sunday, 2pm

FOLLOWING successful events hosted across the world, an explosion of colour will be hitting the streets of Luton next Sunday. The Colour of Time brings a stunning reinvention of the traditional Holi Festival and has gone down a storm everywhere from France to Australia.

It will see the people of Luton come together to engage in performance art based on the festival, which will see an eruption of dance and colour.

Anyone from the young to the not so young, can join in.

To take part you just need to be aged 9+, up for following a few simple dance moves, and having fun.

No experience is needed and all levels of ability are welcome.

The exact location of the event is still to be confirmed and participation is totally free.

Luton Culture has come together with Luton Creates and French group Artonik, which masterminded the project.

If you would like to take part in the show, or help make sure the event goes smoothly as a volunteer, you can register your interest by visiting eepurl.com/boL01v

Fun for all the family in the summer sun as fetes roll into town

EVENT

STOCKWOOD AND WARDOWN SUMMER FETE

Stockwood Discovery Centre & Wardown Park Museum

August 9 and 15, 11am-4pm

WHAT is it that they always say? You wait ages for one fete and two come along at once?

OK, that may not quite be as popular a saying as the introduction above suggests, but that does not take away from the family summer fetes coming up at Stockwood Discovery Centre and Wardown Park.

From a jazz quintet to decorated gingerbread men and stiltwalking, the events promise to be a fun way to spend the summer holidays.

Hafiza Mohamed, programming co-ordinator at Luton Culture, said the fete at Stockwood will be the second time a summer event will have been held at the centre.

The jazz quintet King's Jazz (made up of a saxophone, trumpet, drums, piano and bass) will play two sets between 12pm-2.45pm while workshops will be run by the Houghton Regis-based duo 'Black Box Boys'.

There will also be bean bag juggling, rocket launching and the Wheel of Fortune game.

Hafiza said: "It's going to be a fun packed family day for everyone to enjoy. There's going to be something there for everyone."

"It's free of charge to attend but some activities will be charged for, but they will be very affordable. Let's just hope that it is going to be a glorious day."

The Stockwood show will be held on August 9 with the similar Wardown Park event following on the 15th.

Journey into Oz at the Grove

THE WIZARD OF OZ

The Grove Theatre, Dunstable

Thursday, August 6 until Saturday, August 8

THIS year's amateur production at the Grove promises to be bigger and better than ever before with its new production of The Wizard of Oz.

For those of you unfamiliar with the story - where have you been? - The Wizard of Oz will transport you to a world of flying monkeys, witches and munchkins.

After a storm blows through her hometown, Dorothy Gale finds herself waking up in a strange and fantastical land. Follow her journey through the magical land of Oz as she attempts to find the great and powerful Wizard, who may just be able to help send her back to Kansas.

She'll need help from her three extraordinary companions first: a cowardly lion, a tin man and a scarecrow.

Since 2007, the theatre has staged an amateur summer musical project each year with the aim of providing a platform for young people and unearthing hidden talent.

Now, under the name of The Grove Production Project, this year's play, which aims to be the most professional amateur show you can find, will give almost 100 youngsters their chance at a big break.

The performers will work with a professional creative, technical and artistic team who will guide them to creating the best possible production they can.

It's not only limited to actors, dancers and singers however, it also gives an opportunity for set and costume designers, along with those looking to get involved with the technical side of theatre production.

There will be four shows across the three days, with performances at 7.30pm on each day and a 2.30pm matinee performance on the Saturday.

Tickets cost £11, but be aware a booking fee does apply for online and telephone purchases.

You can reserve your seat by calling 01582 602080, visiting grovetheatre.co.uk or by dropping into the box office.

Charity throws musical bash to raise cash for hospice operation

MUSIC

BUSK TILL DUSK

St John's Hospice, Moggerhanger
August 8, 3pm-10pm

BANDS and buskers from all over Bedfordshire and the surrounding areas are coming together to raise money for charity.

Sue Ryder Hospice is hosting its first ever music festival - Busk Till Dusk - featuring performances from more than 20 acts across a wide range of musical genres.

A first for the hospice, the event will have a licensed bar, barbecue, other types of food, and many music related attractions.

There will be four stages with artists a performance taking place every 20 minutes.

Fay Boissieux, the hospice's fundraising manager, said the charity hoped to raise some money to go towards its annual budget of £2.4 million, which includes running its St John's Hospice in Bedfordshire.

She said: "It's a real mixture and we have even got a spoken word artist and it's got a bit of competition to it, so we are asking the audience to pick their favourite performer."

"It's a brand new event for us and it's a bit of a toe in the water for us."

READY TO ROCK: The trio of Zim Jam Signal will be playing 'hi-energy, jazz, funk-dance music' to keep you on your toes

"We have 18-acres of land over here so in terms of a festival vibe, we have that."

Booking performers for the festival was surprisingly straightforward for the hospice, despite them never having organised something of this scale. Fay said once they got in touch a few artists, word spread and they were being approached by people eager to get involved. Fay said: "It's going to be a line-up of undiscovered talent. It's a real mixture and we have been looking at their YouTube accounts to see how they entertain an audience."

Alex Small, lead singer of rock-band Honest John, said: "It's going to be a great day for all of the bands and I'm sure the competition will help bring out the best in all of us."

"The event will raise lots of money for St John's and this means a lot for some of our band members who have personal experience of the patient care it offers."

Tickets for the events cost £5 for adults and £2.50 for under-16s and a family ticket (two adults, one or two under 16s) costs £12.50.

Legendary laughs on preview are on offer at the Arena

COMEDY

THE MAN CALLED MONKHOUSE

Alban Arena, St Albans
Today, 8pm

THE man behind the hit show about Luton Town Football Club's most famous fan takes to the stage in a brand new play.

Bob Golding, who won plaudits for his one-man show 'Morecambe', based on Eric Morecambe's life, is previewing his latest production about another comedy legend.

'The Man Called MONKHOUSE' stars impressionist Simon Cartwright as Bob Monkhouse, who was a writer, comedian, actor, presenter and gameshow host.

Cartwright famously created Monkhouse's voice from beyond the grave in a 2007 advert for the Prostate Cancer Research Foundation and has a host of credits to his name.

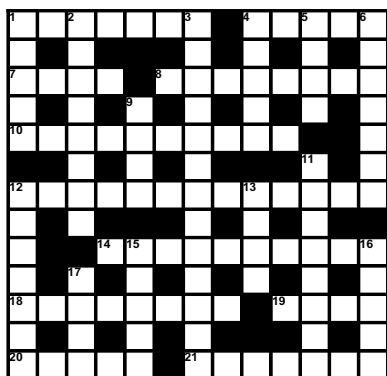

The show opens up with opens in 1995, with Monkhouse receiving word from his manager that his old comedy partner, Denis Goodwin, has just died.

The full production will be seen at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival but Golding is giving eager fans a sneak peak today as part of a nationwide tour.

It has been billed as a blend of Monkhouse's original material with those of the scriptwriter Alex (creator of the 'Barry from Watford' radio skit).

Tickets cost £10 and can be booked by calling the box office on 01727 8444488 or visiting alban-arena.co.uk

What Your Agent Has To Say

Connells a keen supporter of agent safety scheme

LOCAL estate agency Connells in Luton is proud to have supported SAFEagent Awareness Week, from June 1 to 5. The initiative was aimed at driving awareness amongst consumers of the importance of choosing a lettings and management agent who is part of a Client Money Protection (CMP) Scheme.

"We are proud to be part of the nationwide SAFEagent campaign aimed at protecting tenants' and landlords' money," says Justin Walters, Lettings Manager at Connells Luton.

"There are still too many people unaware of the risks of using an uninsured agent and we want all customers that walk through our doors to have peace of mind when using our services."

Connells Luton carries the easily identifiable SAFEagent logo, enabling tenants and landlords to immediately see that their money is protected.

The timing of the campaign was pertinent as, from May 27 all lettings and management firms are required to display their fees and charges to landlords and tenants as well as displaying whether or not they are part of a CMP Scheme.

"Everyone looking to rent or let should ensure that they use a firm which is part of a CMP scheme and look for the SAFEagent logo," continues Justin. "If the agent cannot provide you with this assurance, then you need to question why not."

SAFEagent is backed by industry and consumer organisations such as the Citizens Advice Bureau, The Property Ombudsman and the Trading Standards Institute. The Government has also given its support to SAFEagent Awareness Week since its launch in 2011.

Connells offers a range of lettings services and advice, from matching tenants to their ideal properties to full property management, rent collection and insurance advice.

If you have property to let, are looking for a rental home, or would like to find out how this scheme benefits both landlords and tenants, please contact the lettings team on 01582 481369 or email: lutonlet@connells.co.uk

Sports Reporter

LSN media has a vacancy for a Sports Reporter.

The LSN media portfolio includes Bedfordshire on Sunday, Luton on Sunday, MK News and Northants Herald & Post.

We're looking for a new sports reporter to cover some of the biggest clubs and events British sport has to offer.

From County Cricket, to league football to Premiership rugby, motor racing and horse racing, Bedfordshire and Northamptonshire is one of the most varied and interesting patches a sports journalist could hope to work in.

Experience and a driving licence will be useful pluses on your CV but your main task is to convince us you are someone who is ready to inspire and expand our digital audience.

Working in conjunction with and in support of the LSN sports editor you will need to develop good relationships with the traditional major players but also be at the cutting edge of modern sports reporting, finding new ways of telling new stories.

This position will require some weekend and evening working but day to day you will be based in our office in Mill Street, Bedford.

Benefits: Competitive salary plus bonus structure • 5 weeks annual holiday • Childcare voucher scheme • Following a probationary period there is an option to join a contributory pension scheme and subsidised health cash plan.

To apply please email dan.palmer@lsnmedia.co.uk with three ideas for taking sport coverage in a new direction, and to request an application form.

Closing date 13th August.

We encourage applications from all walks of life and all applications will be considered on merit. It is the company's policy to employ the best qualified personnel and provide opportunity for the advancement of employees including promotion and training and not discriminate against any person because of sex, race, pregnancy, disability, marital or family status, ages, sexual orientation, religious beliefs or trade union membership.

The all-new Honda Jazz is a snip from just £13,495

Honda UK has announced that the all-new Jazz subcompact hatchback will be priced from £13,495 on-the-road for the entry-level S model, rising to £17,425 for the flagship EX Navi CVT model.

The Jazz builds on the strong reputation of its highly successful predecessors. The newcomer retains the classic Jazz silhouette yet exhibits distinctive contemporary styling, including a powerful new face and strong character lines.

A new platform increases overall length by 95 mm, but highly efficient packaging means that the latest Jazz is proportionally even bigger on the inside than the previous generation model.

Occupants will benefit from both boot space (354 litres with the rear seats up and 897 litres with the rear seats down) and passenger space that are unrivalled in the class.

Specifications are generous across the range, with base-grade S models fitted as standard with convenience features such as air conditioning, cruise control with speed limiter and dusk sensing auto lights. Every grade comes with Honda's City-Brake Active to help avoid low-speed accidents.

The mid-grade SE model, priced from £14,595, adds front and rear parking sensors, electrically adjustable and heated door mirrors and 15" alloy wheels.

Those opting for the top-grade EX model (from £15,715) will appreciate smart entry and start, automatic climate control and six-speaker audio upgrade. Styling is enhanced with 16-inch alloy wheels and front fog lamps.

Customers opting for the SE or EX models will also benefit from the Honda Connect in-car infotainment system as standard. This Android-based system features an app-based 'pinch, swipe and tap' interface accessed on a seven-inch touchscreen in the centre of the dash.

Honda Connect comes with pre-installed apps, with others available for download from the Honda App Centre. These give rapid access to internet-based services such as web browsing, real-time traffic information, news and weather, social media, and internet music stations.

Designed and engineered to achieve a five-star Euro NCAP rating, every all-new Jazz sold in Europe will be equipped with Honda's City-Brake Active system as standard.

The all-new Jazz will go on sale in the UK in September.

COVERCAR

Hyundai i20

Take a look inside...

The MK2 model Hyundai i20 is bigger, slicker and a good deal better equipped to take the fight to the top contenders in the supermini sector. Its predecessor won sales by playing the value card. This time round, Hyundai's counting on quality carrying it through.

Under the bonnet, Hyundai's main efforts have been centred upon developing a three cylinder petrol turbo engine to rival the Ford EcoBoost and Vauxhall 1.0 turbo direct injection units. The powerplant they've come up with is badged '1.0 T-GDI' and is a very competitive proposition, offering 120PS – significantly more power than its rivals, yet there's similar efficiency.

Of all the cars in its line-up, the i20 has traditionally been Hyundai's most conservatively-styled thing. Early design renderings for this second generation car looked a good deal more adventurous, but in the metal, it's been very toned down. It's still a handsome piece of penmanship though, carried out under the auspices of ex-Audi design boss Peter Schreyer.

The interior is really smart, with the design maturity of a much bigger car. Interior space has improved, with combined front and rear legroom of 1892mm, a class-leading figure and comparable with the space of some cars from the class above. The wheelbase is 45mm longer and additional legroom was created in the front by raising the height of the dashboard and moving the glovebox and surrounding components forward. Cargo capacity has also been enhanced, making the vehicle one of the most accommodating in the segment.

Certainly it's hard to think of a supermini that would be easier to live with than this one. Few others are more practical or better built and though pricing's crept up a little, this car remains affordable to buy. Of course, it isn't perfect. Not all the mainstream engines are as efficient as they could be, a point emphasised by some trendier, more avant garde rivals, some of which are better to drive. Overall though, if you can find a car in this class that makes more sense when you add together all the really important attributes that families look for in a supermini in this segment, then you'll be doing very well.

DEFENSIVE REINFORCEMENT: Scott Cuthbert goes up for a header against Coventry City

Cuthbert was lured by club's reputation

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

THE reputation of John Still and the size of Luton Town proved an irresistible opportunity for Scott Cuthbert after he left Leyton Orient this summer.

The defender was a fan favourite for four years at Brisbane Road but he and 11 team-mates were not offered new contracts after the O's got relegated to League Two in the final game of last term.

Cuthbert penned a two-year deal with the Hatters in May and he got a small taste of what is to come at his new home when he made his home debut in Saturday's 1-1 pre-season draw with Coventry City.

The 27-year-old played the full 90 minutes, first at centre half alongside Steve McNulty and then at right back to showcase his versatility. Afterwards he revealed the reason he had opted for League Two with the Kenilworth Road outfit, rather than a return to the third tier.

"When a manager like John Still and club the size of Luton come in for you it's a hard one to knock back," Cuthbert said.

"It was everything really – the size of the club, the fan base and the way they want to take the club forward. The manager's track record speaks for itself and everything just seemed to fit. You get a good feeling about a club and that's what I had when I met the manager and when I decided to sign here."

There is huge competition in the backline for Luton this term, after boss Still added to his defensive ranks from last season by signing free agents Mark O'Brien (ex-Derby), Magnus Okuonghae (ex-Colchester), Dan Potts (ex-West Ham United) and Stephen O'Donnell (ex-Partick Thistle) – but Cuthbert is not fazed.

He said: "I know from training with Luke Wilkinson for the last three or four weeks, he's an excellent defender, so is Mags. I've played against Mags many a time against Colchester. Mark O'Brien as well, there are so many choices and they are all very good pros and very good players so it's a bit of a headache for the manager, but it's a good headache to have."

The Scot added: "There's a vast amount of experience all through the team and that was one of the pulls of coming here. When there's competition for players, you know if you have a bad game there's someone capable of coming in and taking your place."

"It's all about doing as well as you can in [pre-season] games and games leading up to the season, to do as well as you can and impress and hopefully you're one of the players that is starting against Accrington.

"A good start in any competition is important. We go away to Accrington Stanley and I've not played there but it's quite a small pitch and quite a tricky place to go.

"We need to make sure we're on our guard and hopefully take the three points.

"We'll be looking to get as high up the league as we can. I was looking at the fixtures and it's a tough start, a testing start, so we're looking forward to that. You want to play against the better teams and see where we are.

"We're more than confident with the squad of players we've got, the talent that we've got in the squad and also the fitness that we've got over the last few weeks – it's been a tough pre-season but a good one – we feel we can be up there challenging for promotion."

thought he was good last year. "Unfortunately, and this isn't a criticism, he came in at a time when we lost our two centre halves, Scotty Griffiths was having a problem and had to have an operation. We had no [Nathan] Doyle and [Jonathan] Smith and he came in at a difficult time but he grew up in that time and we all think a lot of him here.

"Mark Tyler is getting back to fitness and has played a game at Hornchurch and I hope I have two fit, top class goalkeepers to pick from next Saturday."

There is now similar competition for places across the whole of Luton's squad after ten new recruits joined by July, promising a promotion assault.

"We can't wait for the season to start because I think we'll be a force this year," Justham said, adding: "The competition for places is unbelievable.

"It has always been there but we have 22 to 25 players all fighting and thinking, 'I should be playing'. It's going to be a tough decision for the gaffer when everyone is fit.

"The new boys have bedded in brilliantly and we're looking forward to Accrington."

IRON LINK: Dan Potts joins the likes of Elliot Lee, pictured, in having a connection with West Ham and Luton

Hammers connection a coincidence – Potts

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

THE West Ham connections are strong but Dan Potts has admitted that it was John Still's promotion vision for Luton Town that convinced him to sign for the Hatters.

Having graduated through the Hammers' academy to play in the Premier League, the defender saw out his contract at Upton Park in the hope of securing first team football elsewhere.

That alerted Luton manager Still, who is a life-long Irons fan and maintains strong links with the east London club, but that was not what persuaded Potts to pen a two-year deal with the Bedfordshire outfit.

He said: "The gaffer is a big West Ham fan and he's got a good relationship with West Ham.

"I think that's maybe a coincidence.

"When I met him, if it had been any other club [that he managed] I probably would have joined.

"There was talk and interest [from other clubs] but when I met the gaffer he laid on the line his wants for the season and what he thought about the club.

"We both saw it mutually from that respect and it was a bit of a no-brainer."

Still said of Potts, when he signed: "He's always been a player that we were interested in if it became possible.

"When you look at the other players we've taken from West Ham, and other local teams, it gives us a good opportunity to look and we've been looking at Dan for some time.

"He knows how to defend, he's a good talker, a good organiser, so although he's only 21, he's got experience."

The Upton Park academy has been a fine source of talent for Luton during Still's stewardship, with the manager signing midfielder Pelly Ruddock Mpanzu in his first full season and then bringing in striker Elliot Lee on loan at the end of the 2014/15 season.

Potts said: "I knew Pelly from West Ham and he's been here for a couple of seasons now, so he definitely knows what it's all about here.

"When I came in it was nice to see faces that you know. That was pleasing."

Potts and his fellow new recruits have all been persuaded to put pen to paper by the prospect of a promotion push.

"That's definitely the feeling between everyone," the defender said, adding: "We're not going to settle for anything else, so that's that."

"That [promotion] was definitely the thought, not only personally but I think between everyone that has come in and everyone that has been here."

And, if that wasn't enough, there is the prospect of playing in front of 9,000 supporters at Kenilworth Road.

"It's definitely a major factor to join," Potts said of the Hatters' supporters.

"A lot of the players I've spoken to have always said about the crowd and the fan base.

"The gaffer did mention that a lot, so that will be a good experience and it will definitely help the players on the pitch."

Mac signing news due at final friendly

POISED TO JOIN: Craig Mackail-Smith

LUTON were expected to finally confirm the signing of in demand striker Craig Mackail-Smith at yesterday's last pre-season friendly at home to League One outfit Walsall.

The clash with the Saddlers took place after Luton on Sunday went to press but for many news on the prolific former Brighton and Peterborough striker was more important than the result.

Mackail-Smith, 31, became a free agent after Championship side Brighton announced in April that they would not renew his contract and he has been training with Town all month.

The goalscorer held talks with boss John Still on Monday and although, 24 hours later, he wasn't named in the Luton squad that beat Brentford 2-1, he was seen sat in the stands wearing Town training kit.

Afterwards, the manager wouldn't reveal what was decided during their chat, but happily told media: "I'm sure we'll have a good conversation on Saturday."

It is believed that the wait to announce a Hatters deal has been due to clauses in Mackail-Smith's contract with the Seagulls, but supporters will not mind waiting for a player who has commanded millions of pounds in transfer fees during his career.

The Walsall clash was also to be used to run the rule over two further trialist strikers, Calvin Zola and Mustafa Tiryaki.

Former Burton Albion and Aberdeen man Zola staked his claim for a contract with the winning goal against Brentford while Tiryaki, who has featured for Tranmere Rovers, has also been with the club throughout the pre-season.

Another potential new signing is ex-Birmingham City and West Ham midfielder Olly Lee. The 24-year-old is the son of former Newcastle ace Rob Lee and the brother of striker Elliot, who spent time on loan at Kenilworth Road last term.

He featured for 30 minutes against Brentford as a trialist and although Still is not looking for midfielders, he said it would be wrong to ignore available talent.

Fans helped keeper get over Southend nightmare

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

ELLIOT Justham says the Luton fans helped him recover from his Southend nightmare and now he expects to battle regular number one Mark Tyler for the goalkeeper's jersey when the new season kicks off at Accrington on Saturday.

The 24-year-old insists he made his Football League debut 'by default' in February after the veteran stopper injured his knee to end a run of 79 consecutive league appearances, stretching back to April 2013.

Despite a last-gasp defeat against Wimbledon that day, Justham impressed on his bow – 21 months after signing for the Hatters – and remained one of the few standout performers during a woeful month of March in which they lost every game and slipped out of the play-off positions, never to recover.

That misery was compounded when the keeper dropped a harmless shot into his own net in the penultimate game at Roots Hall as Luton lost 1-0 to all but end their promotion hopes. But the damage had already been done by a collectively disastrous run of nine defeats in ten and though few blamed it on the former London Underground night worker's gaffe, he admitted that he took it hard initially.

"I got a standing ovation after the game and, I'll be honest with you, I was very upset," Justham said, adding: "That was probably visible to everyone, how upset I was, but I like to think I'm bouncing back and I'm looking forward to this year."

"I'll kick-on, hopefully, and make that jersey my own and show the fans what I've got."

Indeed it was Town's supporters that helped the keeper through his first big ordeal as a professional footballer.

"It was nice to play straight away against Stevenage," Justham said of playing in the final game of the last term, adding: "I felt positive. It could ruin me, confidence-wise, but the fans were excellent with me."

That was down to a string of saves as he did his best to halt his side's sliding fortunes at the tail end of last term, and the goalie continued that form on Tuesday when he claimed the man of the match prize for keeping Brentford at bay in a 2-1 friendly victory. At the same time, Tyler was turning out for the development squad in a 2-0 win over Hornchurch and the 38-year-old's return is set to provide manager John Still with a selection headache for Saturday's League Two opener with Accrington Stanley.

"He's back fit now so it's up to the gaffer now," Justham said of his friendly rivalry with Tyler, adding: "Hopefully I can stick in his head and continue where I left off last year."

"It was nice to get my chance but it was by default. I'd love nothing better than if Mark was fit and we're both fighting for the jersey. I want to play but I want Mark fit as well because it's horrible seeing someone injured. He's worked hard and I'm glad he's back."

After Justham's stubborn showing in midweek – which included a one-on-one stop to deny former Hatter Andre Gray – Still hailed the young goalkeeper he plucked from Isthmian League outfit East Thurrock United two years ago.

"Elliot has come on fantastically," said the manager, adding: "He's a young man that has come from a low level."

"I really felt for him last year as I
